THE ISAACS CASE.

The dismissal of the case of the U. S. vs Lizzie Isaacs, charged with murder in the district court, takes from the docket one of the oldest cases appearing thereon. In 1893, John Ellis shot and killed a man named S. L. Elder, and Mrs. Isaacs was charged as accessory. This occurred only a few miles from Chickasha, and just as we were passing from the jurisdiction of the Paris, Tex., and Fort Smith, Arkansas courts. Ellis was arrested by the Paris officers and had a trial there, and is now serving five years in the Texas penitentiary. Mrs. Isaacs was arrested and held by the officers here, although an effort was made to get her by the Paris officers. Her trial came up at the next term of court, and the verdict of the jury was "guilty as charged." This was a mis-written verdict and meant death. The court granted a new trial, which has been put off and continued from term to term until now it is dismissed.

Mrs. Isaacs is the wife of the now celebrated George Isaacs who went to Kansas City and putting up several packages of small bills labelled and shipped them as a large amount of money to Canadian City, Texas, and then had a gang of men at the depot when the money came to rob the express and then claim the large amount. In the attempted robbery the sheriff was killed. Isaacs was at his hotel in jail, but was arrested on a charge of accessory and got a life time sentence from the Hardeman county court. After serving a few years of the term he secured his release through a forged pardon and is a large boy. He came back after his release and stayed several days, but his whereabouts are unknown at this time.

Mrs. Isaacs has lived on the same farm since the affair related above, and has maintained herself and her children and been a model mother to them. She has been at liberty on bail, except for a few days at one time while she was securing a new bond. She was never confined beyond being guarded day and night. Her conduct during all these years has been exemplary and modest, and she has many friends here today. She has shown remarkable courage and fortitude in her trouble and can well point to her life during this trouble as being above that of many men under like circumstances. Mrs. Isaacs has certainly suffered enough for the part she took in the unfortunate affair that led up to it.

A few ladies, eight in number met at the residence of Mrs. Charles Hollingsworth on south hill Tuesday afternoon Oct. 16, for the purpose of re-organizing a Literary club.

Mrs. Eugene Hamilton, vice president of the Federated club of the Indian Territory being present, stated the object of the meeting, after which a club was duly organized by electing Mrs. Chas. Hollingsworth, president; Mrs. Eugene Hamilton, vice president; Miss Kella Clark, secretary; Mrs. W. L. Tettters, treasurer.

A committee was selected consisting of Mrs. Eugene Hamilton, Mrs. E. L. Dawson and Mrs. W. L. Pettus to prepare a program, constitution and by-laws and submit the same at the next meeting.

The club then adjourned to meet again Miss Kella Clark at the home of Mrs. Dr. Pettus on west hill, Tuesday afternoon, Oct. 23.

In the matter of surveying exterior limits of Choctaw and Chickasha towns the Indians are again in position to observe the truth of George Vest's statement in the senate when he said: "The United States does not regard a treaty made with the Indians inviolable on the part of government." The Alcha agreement is violated every day that an exterior surveying corps is at work in either of the two nations.—Muskogee Times.

On the first day of registration in Chicago 250,000 voters put their names on the lists. The total registration is expected to fall short of the figures of 1896. The democrats believe that the falling off in the registration indicates a loss to the republican vote of that city.

Just as the U. S. gets through counting the votes on November 6 Canada will begin to vote. Thus within forty-eight hours all within forty-eight hours all the English-speaking people of the North American continent will have exercised the right of suffrage.

At the Court.

Nearly the entire forenoon was taken up in a spirited argument over a demurrer in the Cawdell case. The demurrer was sustained.

At noon the trial of Wm. Lackey, charged with larceny of a saddle was taken up and as we go to press the case is being argued before the jury.

E Hamilton was re-appointed referee in bankruptcy for two years by the court yesterday.
